I have received your letter of January 18th and can readily understand the concern that prompted you to write.

If you have information which you believe would constitute such a violation, you may contact one of my representatives in our office located at Room 200, 1810 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas 75201.

Because your letter may be of interest to other Government agencies, I have forwarded copies of it to the Postmaster General, the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service and the Commissioner of Social Security, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, all in Washington, D. In August, 1966, the Department requested information concerning the Founding Church of Scientology, inasmuch as the Tax Division was involved in litigation as to whether or not this organization is exempted from Federal income taxation as a religious organization. Dear Sir:

Did you know that there is an organization that thinks it is above the laws of this country-- and all other nations? The head of it lives on a ship in the Mediterranean Sea, as he is afraid to go ashore.

The organization is "SCIENTOLOGY" and the head of it is L. Ron Hubbard.

They proceed to break any nation's laws as they see fit. Their headquarters in the U. S. is:

Church of Scientology 2723 West Temple St.
Los Angeles, Cal. 90026

- (1) They censor their members' mail. If they choose, they destroy mail to a boy or girl working there. This is interfering with the United States mail.
 - (2) They do not pay taxes to any country. They take in millions of dollars (tax free) and Ron Hubbard stashes it away in Swiss Banks.
 - (3) They keep boys out of the draft (religion again).
 - (4) They brainwash these boys and girls until they have no Patriotism for America, nor a belief in God.

My son had 2½ years at the University of Texas at Arlington, Tex. majoring in Business Ad. when he got into Scientology--and brainwashed. He quit school and is now in L. A. If we write to him and say anything against Scientology, he never receives our letter.

ST-100

REC-69 62-94080-123

They work these boys about 12 hours a day and seven days a week. I think they pay him $9.50 per week and board and room. By the way, I do not believe they hold out for Withholding and Social Security taxes--that means another law broken.

REC-69

My son inherited some money from his Grandmother-- he wants to give it all to Scientology and L. Ron Hubbard.

How is it that this one organization is above the laws of the United States of America, and everyone else must obey them?

This outfit should be investigated thoroughly and completely and exposed and imprisoned or run completely out of the country.

L. Ron Hubbard was run out of Australia, and even England suggested he leave.

Please investigate this outfit--they are ruining the lives of thousands of fine young Americans (boys and girls). Scientology should be destroyed and smashed.

Very truly yours.

Dear Sir:

on yellow

Recently, I read that the Scientology Church of Washington, D.C. was investigated and charges were brought against various members of this "Church". I would like to know if information is available on this and other instances in which the Church of Scientology was charged with crimes.

I wish this information as my friend heard one of Hubbard's tapes in which he discussed "clearing" the world in ten years. by one way or another. I Would like to know if Hubbard is serious and capable of doing this or is just another fanatic.

I hope you can help me in this request,
as I remain,

Sincerely yours,

NOTE: Correspondent is not identifiable in Bufiles. In late 1962, newspaper clippings indicated that Food and Drug Administration officials raided the Washington, D. C., Headquarters of Ron Hubbard who runs the Academy of Scientology. Hubbard is the founder and president of the Hubbard Dianetic Research Foundation, Inc., which furthers Hubbard's theory of Scientology, an alleged science which instills self-confidence and assists individuals in removing mental problems and obtaining human ability. Hubbard has been described as being "hopelessly insane" by his wife in suing for divorce and "The Washington Times Herald" of 4-24-51, in mentioning this divorce proceeding, stated that "competent medical advisors recommended that Hubbard be committed to a private sanitarium for treatment of paranoid schizophrenia (Bufile 105-55601)

Although I would like to be of service in response to your request, based on the information you furnished, there has been no violation of Federal law coming within the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI. I am, however, referring a copy of your letter to the Surgeon General, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Commissioner, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D. C., for whatever action deemed appropriate.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Initially, I would like to express my gratitude to you for the magnanimous service that you have rendered to the people of the United States for the many years you have been in office; we often have taken your work for granted for which I must apologize at this time.

Nevertheless, I am sorry to say that my letter is concerned with a despotic evil that has crept into the anti-spiritual atmosphere that has gripped this wonderful country of ours. I am referring to these so called esoteric "religions" that have taken a foothold in America, more specifically Scientology Church.

A member of my family who once was a completely wholesome human being has returned from a stint in their L. A. center as a completely wrecked person. The brainwashing and subliminal psychology that was and are used on this person and all other members of this group rival the fiction of "Brave New World" and "1984".

I suppose I should begin with what I have learned of this group and its founder. Ronald Hubbard was a Midwesterner at the end of his fether when he started this. At best, it has become a method to extort money from members (usually unwanted children from the homes of the nouveau riche, the rootless and the unstable) and develop a scope of influence for his avowed purpose of gaining control of the world: members often say "We are taking over!" He hides beneath the tax evasion of his so called "church" when there is no dogma, there are no Deities and the warping of social behavior are involved. He maintains a ship wherein he docks in international waters, presently the Mediterranean to escape the laws and justice of all countries. His organization is open only to those that can pay $15,000 or more for "auditing" which is actually psychoanalysis making every member that performs it guilty of medical malpractise.

I am certain that your organization would be able to uncover more of the evils perpetrated by this group - one that rivals the Nazi Youth Movement in form and the Nazi concentration camp in practise - and bring justice to this situation before the damage multiplies. I am also writing to others that I believe would take action against this plotted usurpation namely the attorney General and the House Unamerican Activities Commission.

I thank you most sincerely for your services.

Most Sincerely Yours,

Dear Sirs:

Re: Church of Scientology

This office has been consulted by three young men in connection with their association with the Church of Scientology, Toronto, which is a branch of an international organization by the same name.

I am writing to request whether or not you have had any reason to investigate this organization and their activities in the United States, and the results, if any, of such investigation. I would be interested to know whether or not you have received any complaints concerning the dealings of the Church of Scientology especially with young people.

It appears that there may be reason to believe that this outfit has used very high pressure tactics with young people especially in extracting money for courses, and further that while hiding under the guise of a church, it is in fact a very highly profitable business.

We would appreciate whatever information you can provide to us in the way of reference or fact.

Yours very sincerely

12/10/71, both captioned as above.

A review of Bureau files shows that Ronald Lafayette Hubbard, also known as L. Ron Hubbard, was born 3/13/11, Tilden, Nebraska. No investigation has been conducted by the Bureau concerning Hubbard; however, files reveal that he was the founder and president of the Hubbard Dianetic Research Foundation, Inc., which was incorporated in New Jersey during April, 1950, as well as the self-appointed head of the Founding Church of Scientology in 1951.

The December 5, 1950, issue of Look magazine contained an article entitled "Dianetics - Science or Hoax?" which related that Hubbard was an obscure writer of pseudo-scientific pulp fiction.

During March, 1951, the Board of Medical Examiners, State of New Jersey, had a case against the Hubbard Dianetic Research Foundation scheduled for trial on the grounds that the organization was conducting a school teaching a branch of medicine and surgery without a license.

The April 24, 1951, issue of the "Washington Times Herald" carried an article indicating that Hubbard's wife, in suing him for divorce, had claimed that he was "hopelessly insane." According to this article, "competent medical advisors recommended that Hubbard be committed to a private sanatorium for psychiatric observation and treatment of a mental ailment known as 'paranoid schizophrenia.'"

Letter to Legat, Copenhagen
Re: L. Ron Hubbard

In January, 1963, the Food and Drug Administration directed a raid against the Academy of Scientology in Washington, D.C., in which machines used by the Academy in the practice of "Scientology" were seized. It was alleged that these machines, known as "Hubbard Electrometers," were falsely advertised as being effective in treating various types of illnesses.

In the past, Hubbard has corresponded with this Bureau and the Department of Justice on several occasions for various reasons, including complaints about his wife and about alleged communists. In one lengthy letter in May, 1951, it is perhaps noteworthy that Hubbard stated that while he was in his apartment on February 23, 1951, about two or three o'clock in the morning, his apartment was entered. He was knocked out, a needle was thrust into his heart to produce a coronary thrombosis and he was given an electric shock. He said his recollection of this incident was now very blurred, that he had no witnesses and that the only other person who had a key to the apartment was his wife.

(62-94080)

Enclosed for your assistance is a copy of an article which appeared in The Washington Post issue of 12/23/71, date lined London, and captioned "Report Criticizes Scientologist Man," which pertains to the subject of your inquiry.

Bureau files contain no information identifiable with Operation and Transport Corporation, Ltd. (OTC).

SUBJECT: CHURCH OF SCIENTOLOGY

Dear Mr. Baum;

Attached is a copy of a letter to [redacted] of the I.R.S. in Los Angeles. It is self explanatory.

I understand [redacted] who formerly handled your Scientology tax case and presently is in private practice in Washington D.C. gave you two letters I sent him. I'm glad he did and again they are self explanatory.

Since apparently I have become unwittingly involved in some form of blackmail, extortion or fraud, the matters contained in my letter to [redacted] are of some importance and urgency to me. Therefore I would appreciate a reply or contact as soon as possible.

If I don't hear from your department or the I.R.S. in a few days, out of necessity I shall initiate independent action as described in my letter.

Dear [REDACTED]

This letter is to confirm our telephone conversation of Thursday, August 31st. Would you please refer this letter to the proper IRS division or other government agency if need be.

I would like to reestablish a firm contact within the IRS and/or Justice Department that I can send information and documents to on a regular basis.

Over the last few years I have been preparing to reveal the truth about Scientology. My appearance on WBAI-FM; 359 E. 62nd St., New York, New York, [REDACTED] on the "Larry Josephson Show" and my appearance on the "Barry Farber Show", WOR 1140 Broadway, New York, New York, taped [REDACTED] over station WOR were the beginning of my campaign. By the way I did not receive nor expect a fee for either appearance.

b6
b7C

I believe that facts, documents and truth used in a legal manner in courts of law and supplied to concerned government agencies and the forum of public opinion need be the only weapons used to cool off my father's complex and harmful con game.

If perchance he and his followers wish to "believe" in Scientology as a "religion" then that is up to them, regardless of how highly they may be misguided. But let them practice their "religion" without the use of force, fear, intimidation and harassment to operate by. Also let them conduct themselves legally and observe the law.

Regardless of the end result I have no desire to rejoin Scientology and, as some have accused me, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] it may sound stupid, but I've gained something far more valuable: Integrity, and self respect.

b6
b7C

I spent [REDACTED] years in Scientology [REDACTED] committing everything but murder. I've spent 10 years more having a man with millions trying to neutralize me, shut me up or trying to get me to return to his "immortal" bosom. He has come close several times but so far he has been unsuccessful and he will continue to fail.

It may sound sanctimonious as hell but it is true; This whole activity of exposing the truth about Scientology isn't an Ego Trip. I would much rather watch my son play football, grow a garden and ride motorcycles. I'm not trying to sound like a "too good to be true" guy but a man has to stand up for what he feels is right, at least once in his life.

ENCLOSURE

All of this is a long winded way of saying; I won't be a party to blackmail, extortion, fraud or anything illegal for that matter. I spent too many years in Scientology doing that sort of thing. Among other things it gives the Scientology Types a handle on me, I've spent three years getting rid of all such handles or trying to.

I spent years living and promoting the Big Lie and I'm kind of a nut now about facts, documents and truth. Therefore, I have no way of totally proving in black and white the information I gave you on the telephone but it was pieced together over a period of weeks from several sources and I would give it a 90% probability.

Several months ago a publisher;

[redacted]
The Olympia Press Limited
220 Park Avenue South
New York, New York 10003

Telephone: [redacted]
[redacted]

bought a book titled, "Inside Scientology" from its author:

[redacted]
c/o [redacted]
OFFICE
362 Riverside Drive
New York, New York 10025

By the way the book is very accurate, truthful and reveals a great deal about Scientology.

When the Church of Scientology heard about it, from [redacted] by the way, they offered [redacted] $25,000. to delete certain passages and/or not publish it at all. [redacted] refused and asked $200,000. cash to do as Scientology asked. Scientology refused and brought two lawsuits against Olympia Press.

Olympia Press was able to raise the injunction here in the U.S. which allowed them to go ahead with its publication here; As is! (I have a copy of the book the court released.) [redacted] case in London England is still pending and I believe it comes up in court in October.

A few months ago the Scientologists (there are indications [redacted] engineered blaming Scientology) started up a harassment campaign in England which resulted in near bankruptcy for Olympia Press there and forced the London police to seize over 100,000 copies of several titles. (I have a document about this.)

b6
b7C

b6
b7C

Also financial problems here in the U.S. began piling up and according to [] he had to file under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Act, which I believe is still pending before the Referee in New York.

On July 3, 1972 [] wrote asking me to write an article about Scientology to be syndicated in newspapers and magazines throughout the world wherever the book "Inside Scientology" was to be distributed. (I have a copy of my article and the full correspondence file with []) Unaware of these above facts, I agreed.

[] author of "The Scandal of Scientology", Tower Publications Inc.:

185 Madison Ave.
New York, New York 10026

Telephone: []

[] lives at:

and who may be still staying in her parents home at:

recuperating from surgery, assisted me in writing the article.

I knew [] was difficult to deal with but I took it as a part of the publishing game, which resulted in heavy correspondence. I met face to face with him for the first time on Monday, August 21st between 1:00 P.M. and 3:00 P.M. at:

Pierre's Restaurant
52 East 53rd St.
New York, New York

Telephone: (212) EL 5-1074

for lunch. (He paid the bill with a Bank Americard.) During the conversation he mentioned the subject of blackmailing Scientology. When I became angry he didn't pursue the subject further. I was too excited about appearing on the Barry Farber Show later that afternoon to have all my wits about me. He also was very upset about my appearance and tried to keep me from appearing on the show, which I thought strange, since I was going to publicize "Inside Scientology" as a side light.

[] was also very insistent about keeping the article a secret and not mentioning it to anyone and he insisted he must have it no later than August 31st.

Later I reviewed his file, telephone conversations and our meeting. It started the wheels turning.

Keeping in one piece over the last 10 years has forced me to develop a good Maze Brightness and to develop and maintain a small but reliable group of contacts within Scientology Organizations. I don't tap the sources very often due to the fact of the Orgs growing militancy. (In fact there are strong indications

b6
b7C

b6
b7C

they have killed several people over the last couple of years.)

I'm not trying to do your job or play some silly 007 game; I need the contacts for an early warning system for self preservation. Picking up information is secondary.

I was able to find out that the "Guardians Office U.S." run by [redacted] here in Los Angeles who operates the church's legal department and accounting for Scientology in the U.S. and the head of the "Celebrity Center" in Los Angeles, [redacted] (she was recently married I don't know her new last name), who is, in reality, the head of the "Sea Org" in the U.S. (The Sea Org is my father's militant personal guard, enforces his policies and crews his ships.) were very enthusiastic about pulling off a great coup with Olympia.

A side note; the name of the game between these two branches of Scientology is One-upmanship with the prize being personal power and favor with L. Ron Hubbard. They boast a great deal among themselves which I take advantage of.

Putting all these things together, I wrote [redacted] of my suspicions. She was to take my manuscript into Olympia's office on Wednesday, August 30th and collect my final check for $1,000 which she did at 3:00 P.M. (EDT). [redacted] had sent me $1,000 advance before starting the article.) But I told her that if the deal sounded like blackmail or illegal not to give him the photos and article. [redacted] telephoned me at about 5:45 P.M. (EDT) the same day and told me she talked to [redacted] for three hours and [redacted] told her about his blackmail scheme and tried to suck her into it and begged her to keep it a secret. She gave him my manuscript anyway, because he said he had very useful contacts at CBS for a T.V. special and promised me a world promotion tour at an undisclosed high fee. (It set my alarm bells ringing.)

The information I have, is that [redacted] may be his first name) were to meet on Thursday, August 31st in New York with Church of Scientology people (names not known) to transfer my article and the book "Inside Scientology" to Scientology for the sum of $150,000 cash with no records kept of the transaction.

Evidently [redacted] had heard from friends and within the publishing trade that Scientology had a great deal of money and they didn't like anything published about them. He saw a way out of his financial troubles in England and the U.S. [redacted] bought [redacted] book in order to obtain money from Scientology. He would only publish the book as a last resort, if then. Apparently the book didn't offer him sufficient leverage because his initial attempt to obtain the amount he needed failed. He then commissioned me to write an article with photographs to add clout.

I was informed that his meeting on August 31st didn't go too well for him. I then received an Air Mail Special Delivery letter dated August 31st, postmarked at 5:00 P.M. (EDT) demanding, in effect every scrap of information, knowledge and documents I have in my possession. His letter also sounds a little frantic. I believe he is trying to arrange another meeting sometime next week.

I won't go into details here but under normal circumstances I might comply. I shall hold off in replying to it until I hear from you.

b6
b7C

b6
b7C

As I've said, I will not allow myself to be a part of any illegal activity, regardless of the reason.

I can furnish you with further details but my point is: I'm not interested in the money. I'm interested in how he used my article. [redacted] just may make [redacted] and I the scapegoat. I know Scientology fairly well and I'm sure they will make a great production of the affair in some way and they may make it difficult for [redacted] to spend the money. I bet they will also design some negative feedback for me too. Which I'm used to handling; [redacted] isn't.

I'm not asking you to protect me or become involved in my personal activities against Scientology. Nor do I expect any inducements or remunerations for furnishing information that may be of interest to you. I will always try to furnish, whenever possible, only facts and documents but this blackmail incident can only be based on bits and pieces.

I know from my association with [redacted] in his tax case some years ago that you are interested in the corporate structure and money flow of Scientology. Which, as you know, is kept in cash and generally flown out of this country and England to Switzerland and/or my father's ship the Apollo.

The possibility of Sea Org Types running around New York with up to $150,000 in cash to pay into the personal pocket of a man in financial trouble and without the knowledge of the IRS, the Bankruptcy Court or his company and the use of someones writings for fraudulent purposes might fall with your interest.

As a side commentary I find it very sad that apparently [redacted] knuckled under to business and Scientology pressure thus allowing his integrity to be compromised. He could have saved thousands of people a lot of grief. I can't fault him too badly because I've been down the same route some years ago. But never again.

It also might be of interest that [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] attorney has in his possession some of the Apollo's daily ship's bulletin and orders of the day sent to him secretly by someone on the ship. The bulletins report the exact income of each Scientology organization in the world on a weekly basis. I saw them at his office while in New York a couple of weeks ago.

I have just become aware of a movie production company which is a "hidden" corporation of Scientology. When I get the documents I'll turn them over to you. The name of the production company is:

"Actions" Productions
1830 West 8th Street
Los Angeles, California

Two of the principals are [redacted] I don't know the name of the third member. The corporation papers do not show any direct

b6

connection to Scientology but Axioms Productions is entirely financed and staffed by the Founding Church of Scientology "Celebrity Center" and/or one of its subsidiary corporations.

Axioms Productions has currently completed a children's television show called "The Bashful Elephant" which is being presently offered to the Public Broadcasting System after being rejected by CBS. It is my understanding that they are in the middle of creating an additional children's show. I understand further that once the shows are sold and being shown it will be turned into a vehicle to openly present Scientology. Knowing what I do about the subject I don't think it is very positive fare for children. The FCC might be interested.

I know the programs content or thrust may not be of interest to you but the "hidden" Scientology corporation and its financial structure and money flow will be.

If you are interested I can furnish you with further details.

Because I've broken my silence after three years of preparation and gone public I am finding all kinds of interesting information and documents coming out of the woodwork. I don't plan on hitting you with a deluge in the future like this letter for instance, but only those that might prove their corporate structure, money flow, bank accounts, ect. I really don't have the ability to evaluate their importance, that is why I would like someone in the IRS or Justice Department to send or give the papers to for proper evaluation and use as you see fit.

I don't ask you to believe me or take me at face value. You already have a reasonable large file on me in D.C. so does the FDA and the Justice Department.

I haven't told anyone I called you on the 31st nor have I told anyone about this letter. In fact I won't mention anything about it to anyone. Also [redacted] doesn't know I know to what use he is putting my article and [redacted] book to.

I only have one question; should I contact the bankruptcy referee in New York about the "under the table" $150,000 of [redacted] Or will you contact them? The referee should be advised and allowed to at least look into it. Since he is, in effect, in control of Olypia Press.

I apologize for the length of this letter and I don't plan on making a habit of it, and I further apologize for the lack of concrete proof. I'm not interested in wild goose chases or creating witchhunts.

I do not know if the information contained in this letter is of interest to you or even if you wish to look into the matter. Therefore, I will wait a few days for your reply or contact with me before I inform the Bankruptcy Referee in New York directly, confronting [redacted] and taking all proper avenues open to me to protect myself from being involved in illegal and/or unethical activities.

I am totally opposed to Scientology and their methods and they know it. They have tried everything in the book except kill me, (that's fact not melodrama). Compromising my integrity by making a payoff would be most helpful to them.

b6
b7C

b6
b7C

As I said earlier, I do not intend involving you in personal, civil or normal police matters; or seek your protection for my activities in this regard; only those matters with concern and interest to you.

In asking you for a firm and regular contact within your department, I'm not asking for information from you but to hand over data. What you do with it is entirely up to you.

I really hate writing long winded letters and again I apologize for its length and convolutions.

Re: The Founding Church of Scientology vs.
The United States, Number 154-226-61

Dear [REDACTED]

As you know, I represented the Justice Department in the scientology litigation. [REDACTED] [REDACTED] has recently sent me the enclosed letters. Hubbard is probably in his mid 40's.

I thought you might be interested in these letters.
I do not know if there is any litigation in the Justice Department or in the U.S. Attorney's office at this time. I am also not clear as to why Hubbard decided to write me.
After my six year experience with scientologists, I realize that there is no way to rationally judge their motivations.

If I can be of any further help with regard to this matter, please let me know.

Regards to your wife and family.

Very truly yours,

Dear [redacted]

b6
b7C

I wrote you on July 28, 1972 and I have not had a reply. The letter was rather important to me and I would appreciate knowing if you received it and what your opinion is about it.

Since I wrote you I got several things into gear after three years of hard work and preparation. Recently I was on two well known radio shows in New York with [redacted] on the subject of Scientology. We laid quite a bundle of facts before the public. Among other things I've been commissioned to write a 10,000 word article on Scientology for syndication throughout the world in magazines and newspapers.

b6
b7C

After the first radio program the Scientology Types started their standard harassment games with my family in Whittier while I was in New York; telephone calls, cars running around the block and parked in front at night. We called the local I.R.S. office. One of the license plate numbers I caught was California plate [redacted]

I didn't call the I.R.S. because I was or am frightened of the Scientology people. I've learned the best way to handle them is always call their bluff and act as if they mean exactly what they say or do. It has backed them off everytime so far. They don't know what to do when they harass someone and the person doesn't immediately disappear in a sudden flash of smoke or run in terror. On the other hand I don't underestimate their ability to cause real harm. There is strong indications that they have killed a few people intentionally.

I'm considering trying to get a couple of high ranking Scientology officials I know of to "defect" with a complete set of account books. The IRS might find them interesting and the Justice Dept. might get a few pieces of information out of them.

I had a nice talk with [redacted] I don't think [redacted] has anything to worry about.

Dear [redacted]

b6
b7C

It has been many years since we have been in contact. I heard through [redacted] author of "The Scandal of Scientology" that you may be the attorney that will handle the future tax aspects of the governments case against Scientology, even though you are presently in private practice. If it is true then it is indeed very good news to me and hopefully very bad news to Scientology.

I deeply appreciate your integrity in refraining from disclosing my address to [redacted] and others. Using your discretion, please feel free to reveal it to any directly involved responsible person that may require it.

b6

Please pardon the length of this letter but I want to bring you up to date, explain my activities and present viewpoint.

I am presently making arrangements and negotiating with [redacted] of Olympia Press, 220 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10003; publishers of [redacted] book "Inside Scientology", and [redacted] to write a 10,000 to 15,000 word syndicated article about Scientology. Also, I may alone, or with [redacted] write a full sized book on the subject. I realize that there are several on the market, but a book by me would really crack things open with a bang.

b7C

I also realize that my relationship with my father and Scientology leaves me more open than others to charges of recklessness, vindictiveness and malice. Therefore I must proceed with care in seeing justice done and an adherence to law by my father and his Orgs. Please don't misconstrue my caution as faintheartedness. I am 110% determined to see my goals reached. Please note my enclosed 14 point statement. I mean every word of it.

Enclosed you will find a copy of an "Affidavit", for your information and evaluation.

In order that you may further evaluate me and any assistance I may be to you I think you should know the following.

62-94080-137
If you want I'll furnish you further details but to make a long story short I found myself in late 1969 in the office of "The Guardian U.S." [redacted] in one of the Scientology buildings in Los Angeles. After several hours of persuasion (no physical violence) I signed the enclosed document written entirely by [redacted]

b6
b7C

There were several other men present whom I didn't and don't know. (Mary Sue Hubbard, LRH's present wife is "Guardian World Wide"; [redacted] works directly under her not LRH) I signed it. I didn't mean a word of the document and I still don't. The only thing I can give you my word on, is that I'll never be put into a corner like that again by them. Note that at the time I signed it, there was no date on it, it wasn't witnessed, sworn to or notarized and notice the blanks. They had harassed me pretty badly up to that time and things became rather peaceful afterwards. As I was leaving, a Sea Org Type whispered to me that I had saved my son a couple of broken legs. Well, the paper and the whisper really "tore" it and I've layed out my plans and activities over the last three years accordingly.

b6
b7C

I gave a copy of the enclosed document in December 1970 to

b6
b7C

[redacted]
Division of Case Guidance
Office of Compliance
Bureau of Drugs
Department of Health, Education, and Welfare
Public Health Service
Food and Drug Administration
Rockville, Maryland 20852

He flew out from Washington D.C. to see me about the E-meter case and I gave him the details then plus the affidavit. He didn't seem very concerned and told me that the government would have no trouble in putting me on the witness stand and nullifying the so called document.

What is your evaluation?

I am now in a carefully self-created situation that makes me virtually immune to harassment of any type by the Orgs or LRH. My only vulnerable point would be direct physical attack against my family or myself. But I doubt they will go that far now, even though they have used it in the past. But I don't underestimate them.

I've sent [redacted]

[redacted] lawyer, duplicate copies of the same papers I've sent you. I have offered to assist them in any way I can in their legal battles with Scientology and assuming you still are or will be involved with Scientology, I offer you any and all possible assistance. You only have to ask.

b6

The plans I formulated three years ago included, writing and selling a book on the subject of sales and using those funds and resultant mobility to gather up all the Scientology papers, documents and records I could find scattered throughout the United States. I was, and still am, going to use them to write my Scientology book and make the papers available to those individuals, groups and governments who may have need of them. I do not have the funds, direct support or assistance to do the gathering at this time and I am a little reluctant to solicit money for the project, (gathering, writing the book and furnishing photostates, ect. to interested parties). It might erroneously seem like creating a con game to stop a con game.

As you know, I was "accidentally allowed" to see and read many of the Scientology documents, papers and records that the Department of Justice, H.E.W. and the I.R.S. had gathered when I was in Washington D.C. on the E-meter case. I would dearly love to gain unrestricted access to them and/or acquire copies. I haven't tried to get the government to let me see them because I doubt they would allow me to view them.

I was aware of most of those documents and their content before I saw them. But seeing them confirmed many things for me. In order to bring a true and accurate picture of Scientology to the public I know I would need the proof those documents provide. Therefore I will gather up a set on my own as time, funds and mobility permit.

Opposing Scientology isn't an ego trip for me. I don't want to devote my life to it or make my living from it. If others can get the job done without me then I'm more than happy to sit back, raise my family and continue to build my career. Being a diabetic I've only got ten or twenty years left to me and I want to make the most of them, and hopefully in a positive way,

You might possibly be interested in something [redacted] of Neville Spearman Ltd. Publishers; 112 Whitfield Street, London W1P 6DP, England, wrote me on July 7th from Spain. He attended two days of the court case Scientology brought against Olympia Press (injunction). [redacted] said, "----and it became clear that they have changed their tactics in law - It is now, according to counsel, an esoteric church aimed at developing the thetan and with no interest in medical health, psychoanalysis or psychiatry. And they produced various doctors affidavits in support of this claim----".

b7C

It looks like Dear 'ol Dad is trying to change direction again. He erroneously believes this new tactic will wipe out the past and take the heat off.

According to [redacted] of Olympia in a telephone conversation I had with him on Friday, July 7th, Olympia won in New York and lost in London in having the injunction lifted against the publishing of "Inside Scientology".

b6
b7C

By the way, [redacted] is definitely on our side. He is the one who approached [redacted] and backed him all the way in writing "The Mind Benders". [redacted] is very discrete and would be decidedly helpful in regards to Scientology in England. He has already won several legal battles against Scientology because of the book. He has had one action put off until October 1972, then later a libel suit and then his counter suit for a few million pounds comes after that. I believe [redacted] can be fully trusted!

b6
b7C

Due to the events over the last few months I find I can not say the same for [redacted] I would proceed with care in that direction.

I found out through sources still in the Scientology Orgs that [redacted] ("Scientology Clear #1") secretly returned to Scientology under an agreement with my father. I don't know how valid the information is, but the sources have proven themselves with accuracy in the past. Therefore, I would deal with him with care. I wrote him about what I knew and attempted to "turn him around". He does not know I am in contact with [redacted] or you.

b7C

As I said earlier, I am ready and willing to assist anyone I can regarding Scientology as I've outlined it here and to appear in court on anyones behalf. I can only assure you or anyone else that I shall be as truthful, factual and honest as possible. My IRS testimony and my quotes in the book "The Scandal of Scientology" still stand and have always remained valid.

It is an interesting trait of many people that to some degree when they leave Scientology they remain somewhat defensive and guilty for leaving. I felt the same way when I left and I guess it was unconsciously still around when I gave all those taped interviews, and information to the government. Again, I can assure you that not one drop of guilt or defensive attitude exists and that regardless of any action my father or his Orgs may take I shall never back up, change sides or quit. I really never have in actual fact. There were times I pulled my horns in and played it cool, and there were and are several things I never told the government or anyone else for that matter, because of reasons that are long past. To be truly effective I've decided (some time ago) to let it all hang out and let my life be an open book. This way it doesn't give anyone a handle on me. Don't get me wrong, everything I told the government was truthful and honest.

I would appreciate if you kept my forthcoming Scientology article/book project confidential because I want it to hit the public before the Orgs can stop it and then any legal action they take will have to be after the fact. Which I hope will increase the articles sale. There is an old phrase in selling called Mousetrapping and I hope to mousetrap them in court if they dare push it that far. A whole lot of cute things will fall out onto the floor they wouldn't want known.

By the way my home address is: [redacted]
[redacted] My telephone number is unlisted so don't lose it. (The Orgs know where I live, ect.)

b6
b7C

I'll be happy to answer any questions (now) you may have and assist you or others in any way I can.

I again apologize for bending your eyeballs so badly with this long letter.

I may be coming east sometime this year on business and if our mutual schedules permit I would like to drop by for a chat.

Drop me a line if you have a chance.

P.S. [redacted] mentioned she somehow acquired a few interesting accounting documents and letters. Need any more? If so what kind?

b6
b7C

1. I have not nor will not personally or condone others to use the tactics of my father or his Orgs in fighting back against him.
2. I firmly believe only documented facts, records, papers, sworn affidavits and testimony used in courts of law, due process of law and the forum of public opinion need be the weapons to strip him of power.
3. I shall, to my utmost, conduct myself with honor and integrity. To put it in nautical terms: I refuse to sail under false flags or run the skull and crossbones up the mast at any time, nor allow anyone else to do the same, either to me, my friends or Scientology.
4. I do not wish to see any physical injury or harm come to anyone in opposing Scientology, including my father. I, in fact, have prevented several hotheads from directly attacking him.
5. Within the framework of law, an individual has the inalienable right to believe, think, say and act as he so chooses, as long as he does not force others to bend to his will or interfere with those same rights of another.
6. My father has these same rights. Rights which I and every other civilized person should protect with all the vigor in their hearts. But my father does not have the right to use fear, harassment, force and intimidation for whatever reason to fulfill his goals or disseminate his beliefs, doctrines or philosophy.
7. No true faith, belief, religion or philosophy need hide behind a veil of secrecy. Their professed path of freedom need not be enforced by strong-arm methods.
8. In spiritual matters each individual must define his own perimeters and what is contained therein. Seek his own path to salvation, enlightenment or self realization. Dream his own dreams and walk his own path. All another can do is suggest and guide on an invitational basis. Such advice to be freely accepted or rejected as a matter of choice.
9. True motivation and spiritual fulfillment are internal to the individual. In truth nothing external to those perimeters, individuals, machine, device or artifact can or should be allowed to influence in any way his spiritual attainment.
10. My one and only goal regarding Scientology and my father is to strip him of the power to use force. Power represented by his money, organizations and militant followers.

11. While in my opinion, Scientology is harmful, destructive and valueless in realizing true spiritual fulfillment and attainment for any individual, I shall not force that opinion on another. Each individual must form his own conclusions and if he must, practice it, as long as he does not violate the rights of others or the laws of the people in so doing.
12. I personally do not wish to reform Scientology; rejoin Scientology; create a new, different or better "ology"; or persecute the victims, followers or workers of Scientology.
13. I shall assist and fully cooperate with government and law enforcement agencies to bring to justice anyone in Scientology having committed any crimes or broken any laws within their respective jurisdiction.
14. I love my father and will continue to regardless. At the same time I have a higher duty and responsibility to truth and my fellow man. I shall pursue with dedication, persistence and patience this duty and responsibility until fulfilled. At which time I shall cease opposing him.

9 3. After deep consideration I have reviewed my testi-10 mony given on July 10, 1967, before Trial Commissioner Lane of the 11 Court of Claims in the case of The Founding Church of Scientology 12 v. The United States.

13 4. I feel that my aforesaid testimony was incomplete 14 and, therefore, misleading and I now wish to of my own free will 15 and in the interest of justice and without solicitation clarify 16 such testimony.

17 5. At the outset I believe the transcript of my testi-18 mony concerning why Scientology was incorporated as a religion, 19 is misleading as the transcript now stands. To the best of my 20 knowledge and belief Scientology was incorporated as a religion 21 because its founder and followers sincerely believed it to be a 22 religion. The fact that tax exempt status and certain legal 23 benefits might accrue to a religion was only a minor consideration 24 involved in determining the structure of the religious organization.

25 6. To the best of my knowledge and belief, none of the 26 adherents of Scientology were processed in order directly to cure any physical disease they may have had. Further, no individual 30 clearly indicate. My testimony in connection with this area of 31 Scientology was intended to convey the fact that the object of 32 processing was to clear the parishioners' soul and, when this

4-1-68

1 is done, the individual functions at a much higher level
2 spiritually. The result (but not the object of processing) often 3 is that incidentally certain physical ailments from which the 4 individual suffers become alleviated in whole or in part, as is 5 true in many other religions, e.g. Christian Science. However,
6 as aforesaid, I wish to be unequivocal in my statement that 7 adherents were not and are not told that Scientology is a cure 8 for any organic physical ailments they may have.

9 7. I testified that the Church made attempts to sell 10 notes to a bank. I would like to correct any impression that 11 L. Ron Hubbard, Mary Sue Hubbard, or any officer including myself 12 ordered this to be done. It was never actually done and was only 13 considered by accounting personnel who did not at the time
14 represent the official viewpoint of the Church.

15 8. I testified that the cost of producing a certain 16 type of E-Meter was about $12.50. First of all, this was merely 17 a guess on my part. I have now examined into the cost of the 18 particular E-Meter to which I had made reference and find that 19 the cost at that time actually was $ to manufacture and 20 sold for $, as opposed to the about $12.50 which I had 21 erroneously assumed to be the cost. I know, however, that there 22 was never any attempt by the Church to profit excessively by 23 their manufacture.

24 9. Although I testified that I thought Scientology had 25 very little validity, I made this statement vengefully at a time
26 when I was undergoing a great deal of personal and emotional 27

28 my testimony, I have always recognized that the understand 29 followers of Scientology sincerely believed in it as a

This Department has been conducting an investigation of the Church of Scientology. During this investigation several newspaper articles made reference to your country being the site of the Church's final clearance by Ron Hubbard.

A local office of the Church of Scientology has recently branched into an operation called "Nakconon" which professes to be dedicated to the non-profit rehabilitation of addicts, using church methods.

Any information you may supply on this organization will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Percy:

I would like to know what our government is doing about L. Ron Hubbard's scientology cult that is preying on our confused young college students.
I think this should be investigated and all information made available to the public - more & more of our inquisitive young minds are being taken in by this false science fiction writer. There is a group at the doorstep of the University of Illinois Urbana - Does our government consider it a fraudulent cult?

Please advise me on this matter.

Thank you very much

Dear Sir:

This letter is being written to request your immediate investigation and assistance in connection with a critical situation that involves [redacted] It is so critical that I am literally petrified at this point that he has been brainwashed by the "processing" he has undergone in "Scientology" to the point where he has become extremely dangerous to himself, to members of his immediate family and his friends, and eventually could become a danger to society.

b6

Three years ago, when my son was a junior in college, he was introduced to "Scientology." He then dropped out of school and since that time has given all of the money he could earn or obtain to this organization in San Francisco, Berkeley, and Los Angeles. It appears that the techniques used result in self-hypnosis, and then the brainwashing procedures begin. At this point my son is concerned about his own sanity, but as a result of the conditioning through "Scientology auditing" he is so deluded that he has utter contempt for any established form of psychiatry or scientifically-endorsed approach to mental health problems. He is now convinced that the only way he can make it is through "Scientology," its founder--L. Ron Hubbard, and continued "auditing" until he reaches the state of "clear" or "thetan." If anyone interferes or tries to discourage him from continuing his "auditing," he is instructed to "disconnect" from them.

Through investigation I have located reports on "Scientology" in the American Medical Association's magazine, Today's Health, pages 34 to 39, inclusive, of the December, 1968, issue. This article is entitled "SCIENTOLOGY--Menace to Mental Health," by [redacted] In this article he states, "Few have heeded the warning of the American Psychological Association that Hubbard's claims are 'not supported by empirical evidence.' They ignore the statement by the late Dr. William Menninger, one of the founders of the famed Menninger Clinic, of Topeka, Kansas, that Hubbard's system and ideas 'can potentially do a great deal of harm.' "

b7C

I quote, also, from pages 37 and 38 of the above-mentioned article:

"What goes on in Scientology auditing sessions? Preclears won't tell you--they are forbidden to discuss their experience with anyone. They also are forbidden to speak any word of disparagement of Scientology to the press or to listen to any condemnation of the cult. If the preclear's superiors think that he is guilty of any conduct 'undertaken knowingly to suppress, reduce, or impede Scientology or Scientologists,' he may find himself labeled a P.T.S.--potential trouble source--and charged with 'high crimes.' The penalty is dismissal from Scientology. Others in Scientology, who might presumably include his friends and/or members of his family, are instructed to 'disconnect' from him.

However, the procedures used in Scientology auditing are easily obtained without imperiling any preclears. Hubbard goes into them in detail in his books.

The first step is to get a preclear 'securely under the auditor's command.' "

In spite of the action taken against this organization in some foreign countries where, I understand, it has been banned, it seems to be uncurbed in the United States. From the last paragraph of the Today's Health article, page 39, I again quote: "Before it finally goes the way of all cults, Scientology may leave behind a legacy of tragedy unmatched in the annals of fads and fallacies to mental health."

I call your attention, also, to an eleven-page article in Life Magazine, November 15, 1968, issue, entitled "SCIENTOLOGY - A growing cult reaches dangerously into the mind." On page 100B of this article [redacted] begins an account of his personal experiences. This article has the following heading: "An exploring writer becomes personally involved 'A TRUE-LIFE NIGHTMARE' by [redacted]"

b7C

These articles in Today's Health and Life Magazine will, I am sure, convince you of the seriousness of the situation and further convince you that I am not just an overly-concerned mother.

A most serious episode occurred during the Christmas holiday season which could have had disastrous consequences. I firmly believe that my son is "hooked" and cannot get well unless he receives professional help to remove the "auditing" brainwashing now imbedded in his mind. He has not, since becoming involved with "Scientology," been able to hold a position of any kind for any length of time. He states that he is, through "Scientology," going to control his environment and everyone in it.

I have read some of the "Scientology" literature--both books authored by L. Ron Hubbard and some of the endless free literature with which my son has been bombarded. The minute, limited investigation I have been able to make of this organization has put me, at times, in a state of panic. I have seen my son's personality deteriorate and become progressively worse to the point where now there seems to be no sanity present in his reasoning. The "auditing" costs have already run into many thousands of dollars.

Is this type of organization, which calls itself a church in this country (in other countries I am told they are not permitted to call themselves a church) licensed to probe into the mind up to the point of removing the so-called "reactive" mind--the subconscious or unconscious mind? It is my understanding that the subconscious and/or the unconscious mind are extremely important to the well-being and sanity of an individual. My son is intending to resume his course--the "auditing"--within a couple of weeks; and if he does, and they are able to remove his "reactive" mind, I am afraid he will be reduced to a zombie or "vegetable." They predicate their ability to remove the "reactive" mind through their auditing processes.

Have you made any reports on and/or investigations into this organization? If so, I would like to know where they are available. If this has not come under your direct scrutiny, I would request some kind of initial investigation immediately. It is impossible for me to communicate with my son on "Scientology." If he brings up the subject, I try to avoid becoming at all involved. If I should ask any questions about it, he displays a jaded personality and seems to be obsessed and under the influence of some magnetic force. You can see the change in his eyes whenever "Scientology" takes over. Members of the organization are constantly after him for more money, suggesting what will happen if he doesn't continue with it, calling him on the telephone, and keeping him in a constant state of turmoil.

I urgently request that you recognize and respond to this letter and contact me for any further information or assistance in connection with an investigation in an effort to determine what can be done before it is too late. I am most sincere about the urgency of the problem. I live in dread of what he might do to those close to him whom he is now determined to "control."

I shall depend on your professional expertise to make the investigation without revealing how, where, or by whom it was instigated. If my son knew that I initiated it, I fear that my life would be in serious jeopardy. Please contact me and recognize and respond to this letter. My phone number is [redacted] My son is not now living with me.

Thank you for your assistance.

Very truly yours,

NOTE: Based on available information, correspondent is not identifiable in Bufiles. The Academy of Scientology has been the subject of citizen inquiries in the past. Ron Hubbard runs this Academy, and his theory of "Scientology" is that this alleged science instills self-confidence and assists individuals in removing mental problems and obtaining human ability. Hubbard has been described by his wife as being "hopelessly insane." Bufile (105-55601)

Gentlemen:

Scientology, Houston
Re: Scientology of Austin(Texas) Church

I would like to know as soon as possible if your division has any subversive information on the above referenced organizations.

The only information I have now is through the Houston Better Business Bureau who informed me that this organization sell courses of study to the public; these courses are written by a science fiction writer, and is a Science of Mental Anatomy.

I am most concerned about this as I have a nineteen year old nephew who is attending the University of Texas at Austin on a four year scholarship. My nephew came to me two days ago and asked to borrow a large amount of money to attend courses at ~~Scientology of Austin Church~~. He will have to withdraw from college and lose about $4,000.00 of the funds from his scholarship. Texas

I sincerely believe that the people at this so called school have brain washed this young man. They have thoroughly convinced him to give up the only financial assistance he has to finish college: his scholarship from the Moody Foundation in Galveston, Texas.

It will be greatly appreciated if you will answer my letter as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

HUBBARD ASSOCIATION OF SCIENTOLOGISTS INTERNATIONAL
Also Known As: Hubbard-Dianetics Research Foundation

In response to your name check request, you are H.D.R.F.

advised that although the captioned organization has not been the subject of an investigation conducted by the FBI our files reveal the following information concerning the captioned organization and its founder, Lafayette Ron Hubbard.

L. Ron Hubbard was the founder and president of the Hubbard Dianetic Research Foundation (HDRF), which was incorporated in New Jersey during April, 1950.

The December 3, 1950, issue of "Look" magazine contained an article entitled "Dianetics - Science or Hoax?" which reflected that L. Ron Hubbard was an obscure writer of pseudoscientific pulp fiction prior to the publishing of his book entitled "Dianetics." Hubbard's book asserts that "the creation of dianetics is a milestone for man comparable to his discovery of fire and superior to his inventions of the wheel and the arch... the intelligent layman can successfully and invariably treat all psychosomatic ills and inorganic aberrations," according to Hubbard. "These psychosomatic ills, uniformly cured by dianetic therapy, include such varied maladies as eye trouble, bursitis, ulcers, some heart difficulties, migraine headaches and the common cold." According to the article, Hubbard's book has "outraged scores of psychiatrists, biochemists, psychologists, physicians and just-plain-ordinary scientists, who look upon the astounding claims and the growing commercial success of this strange new phenomenon with awe, fear and a deep disgust... Hubbard's greatest attraction to the troubled is that his ersatz psychiatry is available to all. It's cheap. It's accessible. It's a public festival to be played at clubs and parties."

During March, 1951, the Board of Medical Examiners, State of New Jersey, had a case against the HDRF scheduled for trial on the grounds that the organization was conducting a school, teaching a branch of medicine and surgery, without a license.

Hubbard Association of Scientologists International

In 1951, the HDRF established national headquarters at Wichita, Kansas, and sponsored the Allied Scientists of the World, which organization had as its avowed purpose "to construct and stock a library...in an atomic proof area where the culture and technology of the United States could be stored in a state of use by science and preserve it in case of attack.

The April 24, 1951, issue of the "Times Herald," Washington, D.C., reflected that Hubbard's wife charged in a divorce suit that "competent medical advisors recommended that Hubbard be committed to a private sanitarium for psychiatric observation and treatment of a mental ailment known as paranoid schizophrenia." Mrs. Hubbard claimed he was "hopelessly insane."

Allegedly during 1952, Hubbard formed the Hubbard Association of Scientologists, an Arizona corporation, and reverted "dianetics" back to its original name, "scientology." Thereafter, offices were opened in New Jersey and London, England.

During the early part of 1956, HDRF, Silver Spring, Maryland, was circulating a pamphlet entitled "Brain-Washing, A Synthesis of the Russian Textbook on Psychopolitics." According to the book, psychopolitics is the "art and science of asserting and maintaining dominion over the thoughts and loyalties of individuals, officers, bureaus, and masses, and the effecting of the conquest of enemy nations through 'mental health.'"

In January, 1963, the Food and Drug Administration directed a raid against the Academy of Scientology in Washington, D.C., in which machines used by the Academy in the practice of scientology were seized. It was alleged that these machines, known as "Hubbard Electrometers," were falsely advertized as being effective in treating various types of illnesses.

In the past, Hubbard has corresponded with this Bureau and Department of Justice on several occasions for various reasons, including complaints about his wife and about alleged communists. In one lengthy letter in May, 1951, it is perhaps noteworthy that Hubbard stated that while he was in his apartment on February 23, 1951, about two or three o'clock in the morning, his apartment was entered. He was knocked out. A needle was thrust into his heart to produce a coronary thrombosis and he was given an electric shock. He said his recollection of this incident was now very blurred, that he had no witnesses and that the only other person who had a key to the apartment was his wife.

Dear Mr. Parselle:

I have received your letter of May 3rd, with enclosure.

In response to your request, it is my recollection that the observations I made when interviewed by representatives of the British Broadcasting Company in October, 1973, were similar in nature to observations and statements I recently made when interviewed on the "Today" program on NBC Television in April of this year.

At that time, in response to a question which was asked with regard to the feasibility of allowing a citizen to inspect his FBI file, I replied that, although it would be difficult, we would try to accommodate the public if possible. We have previously studied the feasibility of allowing citizens to review files we might have which refer to them, and have reexamined this problem, in light of my remarks. None of our efforts has provided a ready solution. The files of the FBI contain information received from many sources, including data obtained from or voluntarily furnished by the general public, with the expressed or implied understanding that their identities will be protected. Because of the nature of our files, it would be impossible to allow unofficial access to FBI files while at the same time honoring our pledge to protect the identities of contributors of information. Under current policy, however, we welcome submission of supplemental data which could make our files more complete and accurate.

NOTE: Our files reveal no information identifiable with correspondent or [REDACTED] A check with the Research Section of the External Affairs Division, determined that the statements furnished by Coventry are essentially what Mr. Kelley said. However, since the cover letter is on the stationery of the Church of Scientology, it is felt that we should not completely affirm the fact that the statements are essentially the same. The reason being that we have currently in the house at least five requests for information from our files concerning the Church of Scientology and its founder, L. Ron Hubbard. This appears to be an attempt to have the Bureau put itself in the position of affirming Coventry's statements and then having them come back in an effort to force disclosure of data in our files concerning Hubbard and this organization.

First Scientific Case to the European Court —Scientologist claims right of entry to Britain—

Van Duyn v Home Office
By Sir John Pennycuik, Vice-Chancellor

His Lordship referred to the European Court at Luxembourg for a preliminary ruling under Article 177 of the Treaty of Rome, certain questions relating to an action in which a Dutch Scientologist is claiming a declaration that she is entitled to enter the United Kingdom. It is the first reference made by an English court.

The applicant, Miss Yvonne Van Duyn, was returned to Holland when she arrived at Gatwick airport last May. She seeks a declaration that she is entitled to enter and remain in the United Kingdom accepting employment with the Church of Scientology. The Home Office contends that the refusal of entry was justified.

Article 48 of the Treaty reads: "1. Freedom of movement for workers shall be secured within the Community by the end of the transitional period at the latest. 2. Such freedom of movement shall entail the abolition of any discrimination based on nationality between workers of the member states, as regards employment, remuneration and other conditions of work and employment. 3. It shall entail the right, subject to limitations justified on grounds of public policy, public security or public health: (a) to accept offers of employment actually made; (b) to move freely within the territory of member states for this purpose; (c) to stay in a member state for the purpose of employment in accordance with the provisions governing the employment of nationals of that state laid down by law, regulation or administrative action; (d) to remain in the territory of a member state after having been employed in that state, subject to conditions which shall be embodied in implementing regulations to be drawn up by the Commission."

Article 3 of the 1964/221 Directive of the EEC Council provides: "1. Measures taken on grounds of public policy or of public security shall be based exclusively on the personal conduct of the individual concerned."

Mr Alan Newman for Miss Van Duyn; Mr Peter Gibson for the Home Office.

HIS LORDSHIP said that the issue turned for all practical purposes on the construction of certain provisions in the Treaty of Rome and directives given pursuant to the Treaty, the combined effect of which was that a member state of the European Community could refuse entry to its country on the grounds of public policy but that measures taken on those grounds had to be based exclusively on the personal conduct of the individual.

Before the court was a motion by Miss Van Duyn seeking an order that certain questions should be referred to the European Court for a preliminary ruling.

The Church of Scientology is a body established in the United States—functioning in the United Kingdom through a college at East Grinstead. There was no evidence as to its constitution but there was no doubt that the government of this country regarded its activities as contrary to public policy. The Minister of Health announced in the House of Commons on July 25, 1973, that it was general government policy to refuse entry to persons connected with that body.

Miss Van Duyn was a Dutch national who had been engaged in the study and practice of Scientology abroad. Having been offered employment with the church at its college in East Grinstead, she was examined by an immigration officer when she arrived at Gatwick and was refused entry.

The official refusal of leave to enter stated that the Secretary of State considered it undesirable that she should be allowed entry to take up employment with the church. It was understood that the immigration officer was acting, not on instructions given by the Secretary of State personally, but on similar instructions given by the Home Office. There was a right of appeal under the Immigration Act, 1971, but it was not thought Miss Van Duyn had exercised that right.

By her writ issued on December 12, she claimed that Article 48 of the Treaty of Rome gave her the right, subject to limitations on grounds of public policy, to be employed in a member state and to move freely and to stay there for that purpose. She further claimed that under Directive 64/221, adopted in accordance with the Treaty, measures taken on grounds of public policy were to be based exclusively on the personal conduct of the individual concerned; and that refusal to grant her leave to enter had not been based exclusively on her personal conduct but on a general government policy, announced in 1968, not to admit Scientology workers and students who were foreign nationals. That policy, she stated, had been confirmed by the Home Office in a letter to the Church of Scientology in April, 1973.

The Home Office denied that the directive was directly applicable so as to confer on individuals rights enforceable by them in United Kingdom courts. If the court should decide that it was applicable, then the defence would be that refusal to admit Miss Van Duyn was based on her personal conduct within the meaning of Article 3 of the directive, in that she had worked in a Scientology establishment in Amsterdam prior to which she had studied Scientology, and was now a practising Scientologist and intended to work at a Scientology establishment in the United Kingdom.

The pleadings raised two broad issues: (1) Was refusal of entry based on personal conduct within the meaning of Article 48? (2) Was the Treaty directly applicable so as to confer on Miss Van Duyn a right of action in this country, and was Directive 64/221 similarly directly applicable?

Article 48 of the Treaty, when read in conjunction with Article 3 of the directive, clearly raised a question of interpretation. If Article 48 stood alone it might perhaps be clear enough that the state was to be the sole judge of public policy.

directive introduced a new element—the individual's personal conduct.

Mr Newman and Mr Gibson had advanced fundamentally opposing views as to the meaning of that expression. Mr Gibson said that it covered the position and that his view was so clearly right as to preclude the necessity of a reference. His Lordship was wholly unable to accept that contention. It seemed that, at the lowest, Mr Newman's view that it did not might well be arguable; it might even be put higher than that.

Article 177 gave the court jurisdiction to give preliminary rulings concerning (a) the interpretation of the Treaty, (b) the validity and interpretation of acts of institutions of the Community, (c) the interpretation of the statutes of bodies established by an act of the Council where those statutes so provided. A decision was necessary in the fullest sense of the word to enable the court to give judgment in the present case. That being so, he should certainly exercise his discretion by requesting the European Court to give a ruling.

It had not been suggested that Article 177 was not applicable to interpretation of the Treaty in connexion with secondary legislation. The interpretation of Article 48 in isolation, and without the 1964 directive, would be meaningless.

Mr Gibson had contended that if a reference was to be made it should be deferred until after the trial of the action or, at any rate, until after discovery. There was no doubt that, in general, issues of fact and of national law should be determined before a reference was made to the European Court, since the determination of those issues might make the reference, with the expense and delay involved, unnecessary. In the present case, however, there was no substantial issue of fact and no issue at all of national law, and there was no advantage in bringing the action on for hearing before making such a reference. Nor was there the slightest prospect of any document being produced on discovery which would throw any new light on the matters pleaded.

Mr Gibson had contended that the national court should not overburden the European Court with references, but the national court was bound to make a reference in any appropriate case and in any event the present issue was of the very first importance.

There had been only one case in which the English courts had been asked to make a reference: Lowenbrau München v Grünhülle Lager International Ltd [The Times, November 28, 1973; 1974 CMLR 1], but Mr Justice Graham refused to make a reference at an interlocutory stage. However, his Lordship would adopt a passage from the judgment: "As I read the Treaty, references are not to be made unnecessarily, but on the other hand the power to refer is not confined only to courts whose decisions are final, or to any particular stage of a case. It seems to me therefore that if I felt in this case in need of guidance from the interpretation of the Treaty, I have no hesitation in referring the matter to the European Court."

It was well established that the function of the European Court was confined to the interpretation of the Treaty of Rome and that once the relevant provisions had been interpreted, it was for the national court to apply that interpretation to the particular case before it. It was no doubt often impossible to frame a question for interpretation within the framework of the particular facts, but it was nevertheless necessary to frame a question so that it could be answered as a question of interpretation by the European Court.

me to be the clear intention of the Treaty. The question of whether an individual in the member state of a member nation had been "employed" by the European Court in connexion with various Articles of the Treaty and in certain cases the courts had held that the Article 48 was directly applicable.

His Lordship would only be justified in refusing a reference on the ground that Article 48 was not directly applicable if that was so. Mr Gibson had properly conceded, at any rate, that it was an open question and his Lordship did not propose to say any more on the point.

The four questions which Miss Van Duyn sought to have referred to the European Court were:

(1) Whether Article 48... is directly applicable so as to confer on individuals rights enforceable by them in the courts of the United Kingdom.

(2) Whether Directive 64/221... is directly applicable so as to confer on individuals rights enforceable by them in the courts of the United Kingdom.

(3) Whether the [Home Office] refusal, based on grounds of public policy, to allow the plaintiff leave to enter the United Kingdom in order to take employment with the Church of Scientology on the basis that it is "undesirable to give anyone leave to enter the United Kingdom on the business of or in the employment of that organization" is contrary to: (i) The provisions of Article 48 (1) and (2) and/or Article 1 of Regulation 1612/68 and/or Article 3 (1) of Directive 64/221 in so far as the effect of the said policy is to discriminate between nationals of other member states of the EEC and United Kingdom citizens (upon whom no similar restrictions are placed); and (ii) The provisions of Article 3 (1) of Directive 64/221 in so far as the said policy is of general application.

(4) Whether all or any of the following matters, namely:— (i) that the plaintiff has worked in a Scientology establishment in Amsterdam for six months; (ii) that the plaintiff has taken a course in Scientology; (iii) that the plaintiff is a practising Scientologist in the sense that she subscribes to the doctrines and beliefs of the Church of Scientology; (iv) that the plaintiff intends to work at a Scientology establishment in the United Kingdom is capable of amounting to personal conduct within the meaning of Article 3 of Directive 64/221.

It was well established that the function of the European Court was confined to the interpretation of the Treaty of Rome and that once the relevant provisions had been interpreted, it was for the national court to apply that interpretation to the particular case before it. It was no doubt often impossible to frame a question for interpretation within the framework of the particular facts, but it was nevertheless necessary to frame a question so that it could be answered as a question of interpretation by the European Court.

Having regard to the terms of question (3), his Lordship thought it right to say that Article 48 (2) was of no relevance, and that there was no objection to its inclusion. His Lordship handed down to counsel a draft of a judgment to replace questions 1, 2, 3, 4.

Dear Mr. Kelley,

Thank you for your letter of 16 May 1974. sur 156

Your recollection of what you said when interviewed by representatives of the British Broadcasting Corporation in October 1973 is rather different from the sworn declaration

Be that as it may, it is certainly true that recollections do differ, and your courteous response is appreciated.

If my understanding of your letter is correct, the FBI has made certain express understandings or pledges with regard to protecting the identity of members of the general public who furnish information. It would considerably assist me in grasping the nature of your problem if you would be kind enough to identify or indicate where I might locate for perusal any such express understandings or pledges.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Kelley, EAST GRINSTAD, SUSSEX, ENGLAND

Thank you for your letter of 20 June 1974. aw/161

I can understand that in terms of your long-standing policy to make information in your files available only to duly authorised law enforcement officials etc., your policy to protect the identity of members of the general public who furnish information can be made defensible. You might otherwise not get such information, whether true or false.

The error seems to me, with respect, to be that the FBI lends the weight of its authority to information which it furnishes from its files. EX-111 It does not make it clear that such information might be raw, unevaluated data furnished by persons who cannot be challenged because their identity is to be protected, who may have acted on rumour, or out of malice and ill-will. Might I suggest, as a "ready solution" to what is a problem for you but sometimes a catastrophe for others, that information furnished by the FBI should carry a rubber stamp with the legend:

Raw, unevaluated data.

Further, occasions do arise when the long-standing policy of the FBI is violated, and leaks of information occur. SPECTRUM

The odd beginning of Ron Hubbard's career

JOHN WHITESIDE Parsons, a brilliant rocket fuel scientist, joined the American branch of Crowley's cult in 1939. He struck up earnest correspondence with "The Beast 666," as Crowley was known by his followers, and soon became his outstanding protégé in the United States. By January, 1946, Parsons was impatient to break new frontiers in the occult world. He decided to take the spirit of Babalon, the "whore of Babylon," and invest it in a human being.

But to carry out this intricate mission Parsons needed a female sexual partner to create his child in the astral (spiritual) world. If this part of the fixture went successfully Parsons would be able to call down the spiritual baby and direct it to a human womb. When born, this child would incarnate the forces of Babalon. During his magical preparations for this incarnation Parsons found himself overwhelmed with assistance from a young novice named Ron Hubbard.

Parsons wrote to Crowley at the beginning of 1946. "He (Hubbard) is a gentleman, red hair, green eyes, honest and intelligent and we have become great friends. Although he has no formal training in magic he has an extraordinary amount of experience and understanding in the field. Ron appears to have some sort of highly developed astral vision. He describes his angel as a beautiful winged woman with red hair whom he calls the Empress and who has guided him through his life and saved him many times." He concluded almost ecstatically, "He is in complete accord with our own principles. I have found a staunch companion and comrade in Ron."

But within two months the bonds of friendship were under some strain: Ron claimed Parsons' girl-friend, Betty. With admirable restraint Parsons wrote to Crowley, "She has transferred her sexual affection to Ron. I cared for her rather deeply but I have no desire to control her emotions." As if to cement their loyalties Parsons, Hubbard and Betty decided to pool their finances and form a business partnership.

In 1946 Aleister Crowley (left), the sorcerer and mystic whose dabbings in black magic earned him the title The Wickedest Man in the World, found a new disciple and welcomed him to one of his occult communities in California. The extraordinary activities of this new and enthusiastic disciple are described in a vast collection of papers owned by a former admirer of Crowley, which we have examined. The man in question is Lafayette Ron Hubbard (right), head of the now notorious Church of Scientology.

Meanwhile preparations for the mystical mission were well under way. From January 4 to 15, 1946, Parsons and Hubbard engaged in a nightly ritual of incantation, talisman-waving and other black magic faithfully described in Parsons' diary as Conjuraton of Air, Invocation of Wand and Consecration of Air Dagger. With a Prokofiev violin concerto blaring away the two of them pleaded with the spirits for "an elemental mate" -- a girl willing to go through sexual rites to incarnate Babalon in the spirit world.

Parsons mentions that windstorms occurred on a couple of nights and one night the power supply failed. But nothing seriously responsive until January 14, when Ron was struck on the right shoulder and had a candle knocked out of his hand. "He called me," Parsons wrote, "and we observed a brownish yellow light about seven feet high. I brandished a magical sword and it disappeared. Ron's right arm was paralysed for the rest of the night."

The following night was even more portentous. Hubbard apparently saw a vision of one of Parsons' enemies. Parsons wrote, "He attacked the figure and pinned it to the door with four throwing knives with which "he is expert." For four days Parsons and Hubbard, were in a state of tension. Then, on January 18, Parsons turned to Ron and said, "It is done." He added, "I returned home and found a young woman answering the requirements waiting for me."

The incarnation ritual set out in Parsons' manuscript, The Book of Babalon, is difficult reading for the unconfirmed spiritualist. Broadly interpreted, Parsons and Hubbard constructed an altar and Hubbard acted as high priest during a series of ceremonies in which Parsons and the girl shared sex. The owner of the documents, who is an expert on Crowley's magic, says that Parsons at this stage was completely under Hubbard's domination. How else can one explain Hubbard's role as High priest in the rites after only a few weeks in the trade?

For the first of the birth ceremonies which began on March 1 Hubbard wore white and carried a lamp while Parsons mind. Thou art a god. Behave at this altar as one god before another."

On the third day the ritual began four hours before dawn. Parsons tells his companion, "Lay out a white sheet. Place upon it a god of birth. Envision her approaching thee. Think upon the lewd, lascivious things thou couldn't do. All is good to Babalon. All. Preserve the material basis. The lust is hers, the passion yours. Consider thou the Beast raping." These invocations along with other passages in the ritual indicates that Parsons had collected specimens of his own sperm and the girl's menstrual fluid.

The climax of the ceremony occurred the following day with Ron at the altar working his two subjects into a sexual frenzy. Over Rachmaninoff he intoned such gems as:

*Her mouth is red and her breasts are fair and her loins are full of fire,
And her lust is strong as a man is strong in the heat of her desire.*

An exalted Parsons wrote the next day, "Babalon is incarnate upon the earth today awaiting the proper hour of her manifestation. And in that day my work will be accomplished and I shall be blown away upon the breath of the father even as it is prophesied." (In fact, Parsons was "blown away" in a rocket fuel explosion at his experimental laboratory in Pasadena in 1952.)

Unable to contain his joy, Parsons decided to tell Crowley what had happened. On March 6 he wrote, "I can hardly tell you or decide how much to write. I am under command of extreme secrecy. I have had the most important, devastating experience of my life." Crowley was dumbfounded by the news of the incarnation ceremony. He wrote back, "You have me completely puzzled by your remarks. I thought I had the most morbid imagination but it seems I have not. I cannot form the slightest idea what you can possibly mean."

With a distinct note of concern he dashed off a letter on the same day to the head of his American cult saying, "Apparently Parsons or Hubbard or somebody is producing a Moon-child. I get fairly frantic when I contemplate the idiosyncrasy of these louts." (This acid rebuke comes from a man whose activities were once summed up by a judge like this: "I have never heard such dreadful, horrible, blasphemous and abominable stuff as that which has been produced by the man who describes himself as the greatest living poet.")

By May that same year Crowley was not only concerned about Parsons's spiritual well-being. There was a small matter of certain moneys. When the trio formed their business enterprise, Parsons is believed to have put in 17,000 dollars, Hubbard about 1,000 dollars and Betty nothing. Using about 10,000 dollars of the money

Hubbard and his newly-acquired girl friend, Betty, bought a yacht. A report to the head of the American branch by another cult member says, "Ron and Betty have their place at Miami, Florida, and are living the life of Riley, while another John (Parsons) is living at rock bottom and I mean rock bottom."

In a more sinister way the report added, "Let us consider this matter of the magical child which Jack Parsons is supposed to turn loose on the world in nine months (now seven). Ron, the Seer, was the guy who laid down the main ideas, technic (sic), etc., of said operation."

On reading Parsons's accounts of the ceremony and the reports from branch headquarters in America, Crowley cabled his US office on May 22: "Suspect Ron playing confidence trick—Jack Parsons weak fool—obvious victim prowling swindlers." In a letter a few days later he said, "It seems to me on the information of our brethren in California that Parsons has got an illumination in which he lost all his personal independence. From our brother's account he has given away both his girl and his money. Apparently it is the ordinary confidence trick."

A much-chastened Parsons wrote to Crowley on July 5, "Here I am in Miami pursuing the children of my folly. I have them well tied up. They cannot move without going to jail. However, I am afraid that most of the money has already been spent. I will be lucky to salvage 3,000 to 5,000 dollars." Just how Parsons managed to capture the errant lovers is in keeping with the other extraordinary chapters of this story. "Hubbard attempted to escape me," Parsons wrote, "by sailing at 5 p.m. and performed a full invocation to Bartzabel within the circle at 8 p.m. (a curse). At the same time, however, his ship was struck by a sudden squall off the coast which ripped off his sails and forced him back to port where I took the boat in custody."

Parsons recovered financially and possibly as a backlash to his experience with Hubbard he took the Oath of the Anti-Christ in 1948 and changed his name to Belarion Armiluss Al Dajjal Anti-Christ. In his Scientology publications Hubbard says of the period, "Crippled and blinded at the end of the war I resumed studies of philosophy and by my discoveries recovered so fully that I was reclassified in 1949 for full combat duty."

Hubbard claims that more than two dozen thinkers, prophets and psychologists influenced Scientology (which he launched in 1951); everyone from Plato, Jesus of Nazareth to Sigmund Freud whom he says he studied under in Vienna. The record can now be righted with the inclusion of Aleister Crowley, the Beast 666.

Alexander Mitchell

PARSONS, "the AntiChrist"

was cloaked in a black, hooded garment carrying a cup and dagger. At Hubbard's suggestion they played Rachmaninoff's Isle of the Dead as background music.

Parsons' account of the start of the birth ritual is as follows: "The Scribe (Hubbard) said, 'The year of Babalon is 4063. She is the flame of life, power of darkness, she destroys with a glance, she may take thy soul. She feeds upon the death of men. Beautiful—horrible.' The scribe, now pale and sweating, rested awhile, then continued, 'There are two possible reasons why Hubbard showed anxiety at this stage of the ceremony, the owner of the papers says. He was either deeply moved by the spiritual depth of the ceremony or he couldn't think what to say next.'

Hubbard further instructed Parsons: "Display thyself to our lady; dedicate thy organs to her; dedicate thy heart to her; display thy mind to her; dedicate thy soul to her, for she shall absorb thee. Retire from human contact until noon tomorrow. Speak not of this ritual. Discuss nothing of it. Consult no book but thine own

Enclosed to the Bureau is one copy of the report of SA [redacted] Office of Security (SY), Department of State, Los Angeles, California, dated 6/23/69, captioned, "NORCONON DRUG THERAPY GROUP".

The files of SY, reviewed by SA [redacted] on 6/13/74, disclose that by telegram dated 5/26/69, the Embassy at Cape Town, South Africa, informed the Department of State that Parliament there had established a Select Committee to investigate the Scientology Movement or "Church of Scientology". A member of this Committee asked the Embassy for information concerning this movement, particularly its association with the NARCONON THERAPY GROUP founded three years previously at State Prison, Florence, Arizona. This Parliament member had a paper on NARCONON distributed by the Scientology Headquarters in Johannesburg. The Embassy requested available or obtainable information.

ST-112 REC-28

SY did a name check with the Bureau and received an LHM captioned, "CHURCH OF SCIENTOLOGY; NARCONON" dated 6/16/69. SY also checked the then Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs (BNDD), but that agency had no info on either organization. BNDD, however, noted that the Food and Drug Administration, (FDA) had had an interest in this question. FDA then advised SY that in 1963, after FDA had seized certain devices used by the Scientology Movement because of the latter's claim that it could cure cancer and other incurable diseases, the District Court found against the Scientology Movement. On appeal, the Circuit Court of Appeals overruled the lower court, holding that the Scientology Movement was a religion.

As of June, 1969, the matter was in the hands of the Solicitor General for consideration of a government appeal to the Supreme Court. SY also learned that the Australian Government made a thorough investigation of the Scientology Movement there and published a "White Paper" containing its findings and conclusions.

The file shows that on 7/1/69, the State Department forwarded to the Embassy at Pretoria all the information it had obtained, noting that the information could be disseminated to the South African Government only with observance of restrictions set forth by the Bureau and SY not to disclose exact sources.

The foregoing is submitted to the Bureau for its information and possible assistance in dealing with the Department of Justice. Since the latter is undoubtedly aware of past litigation concerning captioned organization, WFO is not researching same at this time, UACB.

WFO is having a check made of the main files of the Department of State concerning the CHURCH OF SCIENTOLOGY and will furnish copies of any pertinent documents to the Bureau as soon as received.
